

Short-finned eel

(image courtesy of Inland Fisheries Service Tasmania)

Short-finned eels are native to Tasmania, south east Australia and New Zealand. They are commonly found in coastal and lowland waterways (creeks, rivers, lakes, and sometimes swamps).

Did you know...

Eels can live out of water for short periods of time

